BANKERS LIFE FIELDHOUSE

With 750,000 square feet and 18,165 seats, this is a fairly new house that is, remarkably, in just its 15th year, an old home.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse, opened Nov. 6, 1999, when the Indiana Pacers hosted the Boston Celtics, is a step into the future while taking a walk back into history. It's big, yet comfortable. It has all the modern appliances, yet there's that favorite old picture on the wall. It is a building that is unique in today's sports society because the extra effort was made to make it that way. In other words, if you have a religion, you must build the appropriate cathedral.

In Indiana, basketball is religion. Bankers Life Fieldhouse is a cathedral. That's why the home of the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever is unique.

"We wanted this building to have a kind of special feeling to it, that when people came into it they felt part of the tradition that the building is for," said Donnie Walsh, then the Pacers Sports & Entertainment CEO & President who was instrumental in the Fiedlhouse becoming a reality. "I think this is a pure basketball arena that reflects the game itself and the roots of the game."

Ground was broken on July 22, 1997 on the $183 million multi-purpose facility and while there were blueprints, a scale model and dreams, it was hard for anyone at the time to fathom what would evolve. But what has risen 14 stories into the Indianapolis skyline is a fit perfect for the city, the state, the game of basketball at any level and the various events a facility of this type would host.

"There are so many features that make it one-of-a-kind," said Tom Proebstle, Project Designer for Ellerbe Beckett, the Fieldhouse design firm. "The most obvious feature is the two huge glass curtain walls facing east and west that mark the beginning of an incredible architectural promenade as you are approaching downtown on the highway and see the lit-up glass set against the Indianapolis skyline. No other arena in the world can claim this. I'm sure it will be copied many times over."

That's the view from the outside. Inside, the unique look and feel of Bankers Life Fieldhouse takes over. The Entry Pavilion is a vast gathering place that funnels fans to the Grand Staircase. As patrons make their way up the staircase, their view takes them to their first look at the seating bowl (another unique feature) or to large memorabilia cases on each side of the entrance to the Fieldhouse seating bowl.

From there, no matter which direction one takes, it's a nostalgic look. From the signage, to the concession stands, to the sponsor pavilions, to the bathrooms, to the one-of-a-kind TCU Practice Court, to the light fixtures, to the scoreboard, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is unique, distinct and, as Pacers' great Reggie Miller described, "Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable. Far beyond my expectations."

Bankers Life Fieldhouse has suites (62), club seats (2,400) and state-of-the-art amenities. But it has a look and feel unlike any other indoor facility.

This unique feel has brought many comparisons and compliments to Bankers Life Fieldhouse. The USA Today calls the Fieldhouse "A Cathedral to Basketball" and Amusement Business Magazine refers to Bankers Life Fieldhouse as "The Camden Yards of Basketball." NBC's Bob Costas said Bankers Life Fieldhouse "is winning raves all around the league, many think it's the best building in the NBA."

A 2006 survey by the Sports Business Journal ranked Bankers Life Fieldhouse as the No. 1 venue in the NBA. An informal ranking in the Orange County Register, in 2008, echoed the same rating.

The Fieldhouse will host the NBA All-Star Game in February 2021.

In addition to hosting the Indiana Pacers and Fever, the Fieldhouse has hosted major boxing events and visits from Pavarotti, Bill Cosby, Bon Jovi, Bruce Springsteen, Elton John and Billy Joel, Bob Seger, George Strait & Reba McIntire, The Boston Pops, John Mellencamp, Paul McCartney, Tim McGraw & Faith Hill, The Dixie Chicks, NSync, AC/DC, Britney Spears, Carrie Underwood, Crosby Stills, Nash & Young, Kid Rock, U2, Hannah Montana, Disney On Ice and Dancing With The Stars. It has also played host to the 2002 FIBA World Basketball Championships, the 2004 FINA World Short Course Swimming Championships and the United States Gymnastics Championships. In April 2011 and 2016, it played host to the NCAA Women's Final Four, and welcomed the NCAA men's regional basketball tournament in 2017. In 2012 the Fieldhouse provided a border to the east side of the Super Bowl Village for Super Bowl XLVI. It has been a nearly annual host of the Big Ten Conference men's and women's basketball tournaments, and a gathering point for the National FFA Convention – the nation's largest annual youth gathering.

Additionally, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has been cited for its compliance and exceeding of ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) requirements.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse was the host site of the 2011 and 2016 NCAA Women's Final Fours, crowning Texas A&M and Connecticut as national champions.

WELCOME TO INDIANAPOLIS

What's to love about Indianapolis?

Plenty.

Indianapolis is a natural destination for people who love sports. There are big-time professional and college sports, led by the NBA Indiana Pacers, the 2012 WNBA champion Indiana Fever and past NFL Super Bowl champion Indianapolis Colts. Don't forget about the world-famous Indianapolis Motor Speedway, home to the world's two largest single-day sporting events (the Indianapolis 500 and the Brickyard 400).

As a premier sports destination, Indy has played host to more than 400 national and international sporting events over the past 30 years, from the Super Bowl and NCAA Final Fours to U.S. Olympic Team Trials and of course the Indy 500.

Besides the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, the city boasts three of the finest sports venues in the world: Bankers Life Fieldhouse (home to the Pacers and Fever), Lucas Oil Stadium (home to the Colts) and Victory Field (home to the Triple-A Indianapolis Indians), not to mention historic Hinkle Fieldhouse on the campus of Butler University. Just a short walk from the NCAA offices and NCAA Hall of Champions are another pair of world-class venues downtown, on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). The IUPUI Natatorium has been a frequent host to U.S. Olympic Trials, and the Michael Carroll Track & Field Stadium hosts Indy Eleven Soccer games and frequent Olympic Trial events and the USA Outdoor Track & Field Championships.

Indy is home to six unique "cultural districts," each bustling with its own distinct flavor, flair and mix of pubs, restaurants, shops, arts and attractions. From Mass Ave to Fountain Square, these districts are connected by the recently completed "Cultural Trail." Flanked with $26 million in public art, the 8-mile trail is an incredible way to explore the city.

Then there is the world-class urban park, White River State Park, with seven major attractions creating a border around it. Stroll from the Indianapolis Zoo to the Indiana State Museum to the NCAA Hall of Champions to the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art to the Medal of Honor Winners Memorial. In the summertime, you can also catch a concert performed by renowned recording artists at The Lawn or a baseball game at one of the best minor league ballparks in the country, Victory Field.

White River State Park also serves as the portal to the enchanting Central Canal, an ideal place to walk, jog or ride by bike or boat.

The park is just one of more than 50 major attractions located within Indy's deliberately designed downtown, loaded with dozens of hotels, more than 300 restaurants, shopping, cultural attractions and sports venues within walking distance. Even better, most are connected by the city's system of enclosed skywalks.

Just a short distance from downtown, the Children's Museum of Indianapolis, the world's largest, beckons to the young and young of heart. Nearby you'll find the Indianapolis Museum of Art, which houses one of the largest general collections in the United States.

Other major attractions include the delightful Conner Prairie, a living history museum that instantly transports visitors to 19th century Indiana and Traders Point Creamery, an organic farm producing all of the yogurt for Whole Foods nationwide.

But as much as there is to love about Indiana's capital city, it's only getting better.

The 63,000-seat Lucas Oil Stadium opened in August 2008. Featuring a retractable roof, this multi-function stadium is not just home to the Colts, but the 2010 and 2015 NCAA Men's Final Fours, Big Ten Football Championship Games since 2011, the 2012 Super Bowl, music competitions, conventions, trade shows and concerts.

In January 2022, Lucas Oil Stadium will host the College Football Playoff national championship game.

The new $1 billion Weir Cook Terminal also has opened at Indianapolis International Airport. It is the first terminal to be constructed post-9/11 and features state-of-the-art security and convenience.

Recently completed is a complex of four hotel properties known as Marriott Place. The complex, adjacent to White River State Park and the Indiana Convention Center, includes 1,600 rooms and brings to 4,700 rooms (most in the country) connected to a convention center complex.

Whatever your pleasure – nightlife, museums, sports, music, arts, dining, shopping – you'll find it in Indy, all contained in a remarkable package of ease and convenience. That's why we #LoveIndy.

FINISH LINE

Just hours before Indiana hosted Game 3 of the WNBA Finals on Oct. 19, 2012, Pacers Sports & Entertainment and the Indiana Fever announced a marquee partnership with athletic retailer Finish Line that will feature the Finish Line logo on Fever team jerseys beginning in the 2013 season. The Finish Line brand will be integrated into Fever television broadcasts and team merchandise, team advertising and signage at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Where the Fever players are shown in uniform, Finish Line will be there too.

The multi-year agreement combines brand awareness with the Fever as well as activation of the Finish Line Ball Kids Program to be executed at all home games for the Fever and Indiana Pacers. Finish Line also will receive in-game advertising as part of the Pacers and Fever radio networks, and web links on FeverBasketball.com and BankersLifeFieldhouse.com.

A multi-year extension was agreed upon in 2015. By the end of its second term, beginning in 2016, the Fever-Finish Line relationship will become the longest-tenured jersey partnership in WNBA history

"I am proud to partner with the Indiana Fever, one of the premiere women's professional sports teams in America," said Glenn Lyon, chairman and chief executive officer of Finish Line. "We are both teams that show dedication, commitment to our community and passion to be the best."

"Reaching agreement with Finish Line is one of the landmark moments in our franchise history," said Kelly Krauskopf, whose team won the 2012 WNBA championship just two days later. "Finish Line is a widely respected national brand in the athletic retail market. Partnering with such a reputable and prestigious company as Finish Line will enhance our own branding and visibility in the Indiana sports community and abroad."

Consumers in Central Indiana and all 12 WNBA markets will see the Finish Line logo during Fever radio and TV broadcasts as well as the Fever's Live Stream Webcast presented by Finish Line. Visitors to Bankers Life Fieldhouse will see the Finish Line logo aligned with the Fever on banners inside the building as well as on LED, courtside and scoreboard advertising during all Fever home games. A "Race to the Finish Line" scoreboard promotion also will take place during every Fever home game.

One of the most consistently competitive franchises in the WNBA, Indiana's jersey sponsorship became the sixth of its kind in the then-16-year league.

PACERS SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT - EXECUTIVE STAFF

KELLY KRAUSKOPF
PRESIDENT, INDIANA FEVER

TWITTER

Kelly Krauskopf is in her 19th season as the Indiana Fever's top executive, engineering the franchise from its birth in 1999 and directing the club's business and basketball interests all the way to three WNBA Finals appearances since 2009 and its first league championship in 2012. The club's chief operating officer through 16 seasons and general manager for 12 seasons since 2006, she was promoted to President in October 2012. She relinquished her general manager's role following the 2017 season.

A Senior Vice President for Pacers Sports & Entertainment, Krauskopf was named last fall to oversee the launch of the Pacers eSports business as the Pacers will field a team in the NBA2k league in 2018. Krauskopf will provide leadership and guidance over the new venture to include branding, marketing, operations and financials for the team.

Specific to the Fever and WNBA, she is the longest-tenured senior team executive in the league, dating beyond the Fever to her time as the league's first Director of Basketball Operations in 1996. The only chief executive in Fever history, Krauskopf has been the guiding force of the Fever from building the team roster to building a fan base for Indiana's WNBA franchise. In her role with the Fever, Krauskopf oversees all aspects of the team's operation.

Since moving to Indianapolis and beginning the task of building a WNBA franchise, Krauskopf has engineered numerous player moves enabling the Fever to sustain arguably the highest level of consistency the 20-year WNBA has ever seen.

Krauskopf has guided the franchise to 13 playoff berths in its first 18 seasons – including a run of 12 consecutive from 2005 to 2016. Indiana has become one of the WNBA's most successful franchises, joining the Los Angeles Sparks as the only clubs in league history to post eight 20-win seasons. In fact, the Fever is the league's only franchise ever to post seven 20-win seasons in an eight-year span (2005-12).

Under Krauskopf's guidance, the Fever secured identical 21-13 records in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2010 and 2011; and set its club standard with 22-12 records in each of its first two seasons reaching the WNBA Finals - 2009 and 2012.

Though Indiana reached the WNBA Finals in 2009 and though the franchise had achieved such consistent, annual success, the Fever had never won the title -- until the 2012 season culminated in a magical playoff run resulting in the city's first professional basketball crown since the 1973 ABA Indiana Pacers.

The Krauskopf-built Fever is the most stable the franchise has ever been, transitioning from the 16-year presence of perennial All-Star and four-time Olympic gold medalist Tamika Catchings, to a new mix of youth and experience that includes Candice Dupree, Shenise Johnson, Tiffany Mitchell, Erica Wheeler and 2018 first-round draft picks Kelsey Mitchell and Victoria Vivians.

The hiring of Lin Dunn as head coach in 2008 helped the club establish stability in both the WNBA and its local market. Inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2014, Dunn joined the franchise as a scout in 2003, an assistant coach in 2004, and led the franchise to unprecedented playoff success in seven seasons as head coach.

Following Dunn's retirement, Krauskopf tabbed Stephanie White as the club's fifth head coach. White, an Indiana prep and collegiate icon before her own career in the WNBA and later broadcasting and coaching, was Krauskopf's very first trade acquisiton in 1999, joining the Fever for the club's inaugural season.

After Dunn's successful tenure, White's hiring proved no less fruitful, guiding Indiana to the WNBA Finals in her first season and another playoff berth in her second.

White's return to the college level coincided with the club's transition without Catchings, and Krauskopf tabbed former Chicago coach Pokey Chatman as the Fever's sixth head coach in November 2016.

Annually one of the league's most active GMs, Krauskopf's key trades and free agent signings re-tooled the Fever roster over the years - including the 2017 offseason trade that brought Dupree, a five-time All-Star, to the Circle City.

Besides Dupree and a February 2008 deal to land hometown star Katie Douglas, other moves have resulted in the acquisitions of past stars Erin Phillips, Tangela Smith, Natalie Williams, Yolanda Griffith, and Kelly Miller. A midseason move during the 2002 campaign brought veteran guard Coquese Washington to the Fever to ignite a late run to the franchise's first appearance in the WNBA Playoffs.

The cornerstone of the franchise was solidified by the draft selection of Catchings in the 2001 WNBA Draft. The third overall selection in the 2001 Draft, Catchings was named Rookie of the Year in 2002 and Defensive Player of the Year in 2005, 2006, 2009, 2010 and 2012. The 10-time WNBA All-Star and 12-time All-WNBA selection finally earned a long-deserved MVP honor in 2011, finishing in the top five in MVP balloting 10 times. She won her first WNBA crown while earning Finals MVP honors in 2012.

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PROGRAMS & FRANCHISE DEVELOPMENT

TWITTER

A four-time Olympic gold medalist and 16-year WNBA superstar with the Indiana Fever, Tamika Catchings was named Director of Player Programs and Franchise Development with Pacers Sports & Entertainment in April 2017. Catchings' position includes work with all three PS&E basketball franchises – the Indiana Pacers, the Indiana Fever and the Fort Wayne Mad Ants.

Catchings' presence adds enhanced value to career and community programming which already exists with the Pacers. Her addition helps install new programs with the Fever and Mad Ants.

She serves as a bridge while helping maintain program continuity for all three franchises. Catchings aids with structure and implementation of player development programs, player relations and community outreach. Programs for the Fever and Mad Ants are designed to build chemistry and continuity among players, assist each franchise in recruiting free agents, and help with leadership development and professional skills for all players. As an additional resource for all teams, the position expands Pacers Sports & Entertainment's ability to educate and prepare players for their post-playing careers.

Catchings works one-on-one with individual players on speaking and presentation skills, and the development of athlete foundations or other business interests. A longtime president of the WNBA player's association, Catchings also assists in the planning and execution of league, NBAPA and WNBAPA meetings, and other team and player programming.

Widely regarded for her own community work and professional leadership as a player, Catchings is uniquely qualified for her new position. She joined the Indiana franchise in 2001 when she was the club's first-round draft selection – just one year after the Fever was established. As a face of the Fever franchise through 16 seasons, she has been a constant ambassador and respected representative of the NBA, WNBA and Pacers Sports & Entertainment throughout her career.

More than a basketball player, Catchings has routinely earned distinction as one of the nation's finest citizen-athletes with committed community engagement throughout the country and even internationally. In 2015, she was inaugural winner of the ESPN Sports Humanitarian of the Year. Last summer, she became the first two-time recipient of the WNBA's Dawn Staley Community Leadership Award and the first three-time winner of the WNBA's Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award. Last November, she was honored in consecutive weeks with the Pathfinder Award by the Indiana Sports Corporation, honoring those who improve the lives of America's youth; and the Musial Award by the St. Louis Sports Commission, for extraordinary sportsmanship.

The 38-year old Catchings matched an Olympic basketball record for men or women while earning her fourth Olympic gold medal last summer. The 12-time All-WNBA recipient and 10-time WNBA All-Star helped lead the Fever to a league-record 12 consecutive playoff appearances, 13 overall. The 2011 league MVP and 2012 Finals MVP, she is the leading rebounder in WNBA history, and its No. 2 all-time scorer. She was named the WNBA Defensive Player of the Year an unprecedented five times.

Catchings continues to serve as a national and international ambassador for the NBA and WNBA, and was recently named to USA Basketball's Women's Developmental National Team Committee.

She also began a broadcasting career as a college basketball analyst during the 2016-17 college season with ESPN. She begins her second year covering Fever games broadcast on MyINDY-TV 23, alongside Pat Boylan.

Married in February 2016 to former Pike High School and University of Buffalo basketball player Parnell Smith, she added local business owner to her resume when she purchased a tea shop, TeasMeIndy, in March 2017. She is the daughter of former NBA star Harvey Catchings, and her sister, Tauja, was drafted by the Phoenix Mercury in 2000. Tamika and Tauja established the Catch The Stars Foundation in 2004.

PACERS FOUNDATION, INC.

Behind every statistic can be a story about a kid, at-risk, who needs help.

From abuse to bullying to obesity to drugs, Indiana's youth can face many obstacles. That is why the Pacers Foundation gets involved by funding programs that help provide positive opportunities and experiences for our young people.

Since its inception in 1993, Pacers Foundation has contributed more than $7 million in contributions, community partnerships, scholarships and tickets to Pacers and Fever games.

We are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of at-risk youth in Indianapolis and throughout Indiana. In doing so, we can help make our Hoosier communities better places to live, work and play.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

In the most recent fiscal year, the Pacers Foundation awarded nearly $400,000 in grants to 58 youth-serving non-profits throughout the state of Indiana. We are especially interested in forming partnerships that serve not only our youth but the greater good in our communities. One such partnership is with the Indianapolis Parks Foundation in a continuing effort to refurbish outdoor and indoor basketball courts at City Parks throughout Marion County. As the courts are refurbished, they are co-branded with Fever, Pacers and We Grow Basketball Here logos. More recently, the Pacers Foundation provided a grant to the Indianapolis Police Foundation to aid public safety personnel in fostering positive relationships with youth in some of Indianapolis' most high-risk neighborhoods.

BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION

We are not a traditional corporate foundation, supported solely by our corporate parent. We strongly believe that helping Indiana's youth make winning life choices requires all of us in the community to do our part. Therefore, we invite you to join us in this effort by supporting our two major fundraising events, the Pacers Foundation Golf Outing in September and, in partnership with the Simon Youth Foundation, the Masquerade in October. Yet another form of support can come by purchasing a Pacers Foundation license plate through the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

INDIANA FEVER BOWLING TOURNAMENT/FEVER CARES FUND

Members of the Fever team and coaching staff serve up strikes at an annual bowling tournament which benefits the Fever Cards Fund of the Paces Foundation. Fever sponsors, season ticket holders and fans are treated to a night of bowling fun, pizza, a silent auction and autographs from the Fever team and other celebrities.

The 2017 event raised over $18,000. The 2017 tournament will take place at Pinheads in Fishers on Tuesday, July 31.

The vision of the Fever Cares Fund is to be recognized as a leading funding resource for programs that encourage the development of valuable life skills among young women throughout the state of Indiana. These programs build self-esteem, promote a positive body image and educate about dating violence while providing services to those who have experienced such violence.

Specific to the Fever Cares Fund, organizations benefiting since 2001, among others, are the Children's Bureau, Girls Inc. of Indianapolis, Girl Scouts, The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation, The Julian Center, and the Social Health Association.

During her lengthy tenure at LSU, she attended three Final Fours and was a part of 15 NCAA Tournament teams. As acting head coach and head coach, she led the Tigers to three consecutive Final Fours including a 2005 loss in the national semifinals at the RCA Dome in Indianapolis. She earned national coach of the year accolades in her first full season in 2005.

Her diverse resume also includes a pair of EuroLeague titles with Spartak Moscow, first as an assistant in 2008, and another while serving as head coach of the Russian powerhouse for four seasons from 2009-13.

Internationally, Chatman was a part of two gold-medal teams with USA Basketball. As a player, she won gold with the USA's U18 squad that won the FIBA Americas championship in Brazil in 1988. She was an assistant coach with the U.S. team at the World University Games in 2005 in Turkey. She also coached the national team of Slovakia for two seasons.

LSU

A 1987 graduate of Hahnville High School and a native of Ama, La., Chatman dazzled LSU fans for four years as LSU's starting point guard in the late 1980s and early 1990s, Her fiery demeanor and floor leadership helped her transition to coaching and a 16-year tenure on the LSU coaching staff. She served as a student assistant coach for one season (1991-92) before accepting a full-time post as assistant coach in 1992-93. Chatman was elevated to associate coach in 1999. She was the Lady Tigers' acting head coach in 2003-04 after hall of fame coach Sue Gunter took a midseason medical leave. Chatman became the school's fourth head coach in April 2004.

There are few coaches in basketball history that can match the success that Chatman enjoyed in her three-plus years as head coach of the LSU women's basketball program. Counting her time as acting head coach, LSU won 105 games (105-19), advanced to three NCAA Final Fours, won two Southeastern Conference regular season titles and earned a No. 1 seed in two NCAA Tournaments.

In fact, in Chatman's first 50 games as a head coach, she won an astonishing 47 times. That 47-3 record was noted as the second-best record after 50 games in women's basketball history. Soon after she assumed head coaching reigns late in 2003-04, she introduced LSU to its first NCAA Final Four, with subsequent appearances each year thereafter.

Once regarded as one of the nation's best recruiters, she quickly became known as one of the top up-and-coming coaches in the collegiate ranks. Since her promotion to associate coach in 1999, the Lady Tigers participated in nine consecutive NCAA Tournaments.

Chatman assumed LSU's recruiting efforts in the mid-1990s and the program climbed instantly. The Lady Tigers had eight straight classes rank among the top 20 in the nation, including a 2004 freshman class with three Parade All-Americans and future WNBA draft picks: Sylvia Fowles, Quianna Chaney and Erica White. Chatman later helped land Seimone Augustus, now a perennial WNBA All-Star who finished her LSU career as a two-time national player of the year and the WNBA's No. 1 draft pick (2006).

Chatman helped sign Aiysha Smith, a 2003 first-round pick of the Washington Mystics; DeTrina White, the 1998-99 national freshman of the year and a second-round pick of the Fever in 2003; current WNBA player Doneeka Hodges and Temeka Johnson, a first-round pick of the Washington Mystics and the 2005 WNBA Rookie of the Year who broke Chatman's career assists record.

Besides Johnson and White whom she recruited, Chatman helped tutor some of the finest guards in the country. Marie Ferdinand was a 2001 Kodak All-America selection who became a first-round WNBA draft pick and a WNBA All-Star. Elaine Powell enjoyed a lengthy career with three WNBA titles as part of the Detroit Shock. Pietra Gay was a member of the 1997 WNBA champion Houston Comets.

Inducted into the LSU Athletics Hall of Fame in 1999 prior to her head coaching role with the Lady Tigers, Chatman quickly rose to the top of her profession. Capping her first season as head coach in 2005, she won multiple national coach of the year accolades. She was named the Black Coaches Association Coach of the Year in 2004 and 2005, and the Louisiana Coach of the Year in 2005 and 2006.

EUROPE, CHICAGO SKY & WORLD'S GREATEST PLAYERS

Chatman made her entrance into the WNBA, with the Sky in 2011, in the midst of a six-year coaching run in Europe. Success on both continents helped cement her status as one of the world's most versatile, top young coaches.

Hired to coach the Slovakian national team in 2008, she served simultaneously as an assistant coach with Spartak Moscow, a star-studded Russian club that annually employed one of Europe's top teams. Chatman was elevated to head coaching status with Spartak prior to the 2009-10 campaign which netted a 16-0 EuroLeague record and the club's fourth consecutive EuroLeague championship.

The following summer, her Slovakian team narrowly missed an upset bid to the 2010 FIBA World Championships. Months later, Chatman accepted her position as the Sky's general manager and head coach, Oct. 29, 2010, just as she embarked on her second of four seasons as head coach with Spartak.

During four seasons with Spartak, Chatman's rosters were filled with a myriad of Olympians and All-Stars, comprising many of the world's greatest women's players: U.S. Olympians Augustus and Fowles from her LSU teams, U.S. Olympic co-captains Sue Bird and Diana Taurasi; foreign Olympic stars Lauren Jackson and Sonja Petrovic; and American veteran stars Candice Dupree, Becky Hammon, Epiphanny Prince and Taj McWilliams-Franklin.

Chatman and Spartak returned to the EuroLeague Finals again in 2011, and posted Final Eight finishes in 2012 and 2013, just as she began reversing WNBA fortunes in Chicago.

The Sky recorded a pair of 14-20 campaigns in 2011 and 2012 before Chatman nabbed Elena Delle Donne with the second selection of the 2013 WNBA Draft. Chatman surrounded Delle Donne, the 2013 WNBA Rookie of the Year and a future MVP, with additional young talent through the draft. She executed trades for star veterans Cappie Pondexter and Erika de Souza.

Chatman and the Sky reached the playoffs for the first time in club history in 2013 to begin a four-year playoff run. In 2014 she led the WNBA's youngest team to the team's second postseason appearance and, following series wins over Atlanta and Indiana, guided the Sky into the 2014 WNBA Finals.

POINT GUARD

Long before turning the Sky into a playoff contender in Chicago, Chatman began breaking barriers as a college point guard. She helped LSU to its first Southeastern Conference Tournament title as a senior point guard, and later helped the program climb the national rankings as both an assistant and head coach.

Playing for the legendary Gunter from 1987-91, Chatman led the Lady Tigers to the 1991 conference tourney championship while earning honors as the tournament MVP. It capped a career that featured three All-SEC awards and her naming as a Kodak All-American as a senior. She played in four NCAA Tournaments at LSU and left the playing floor with an 82-38 record.

Still the school's record-holder in career steals (346), she owned the LSU assists standard for 14 seasons before she watched it fall while patrolling the sidelines. The Louisiana native ushered in the 3-point era at LSU by pacing the Lady Tigers in 3-point percentage in each of four seasons. She led the SEC in 3-point field goals made as a junior and senior.

Born June 18, 1969, Chatman earned a bachelor's degree in general studies from LSU in December of 1991.

CHRISTIE SIDES
ASSISTANT COACH

Veteran college, international and WNBA coach Christie Sides has joined the Indiana coaching staff for 2018. Most recently at Northwestern University, Sides is re-united with Pokey Chatman, with whom she has spent a combined 12 years at Louisiana State, overseas in Russia and Slovakia, and with the Chicago Sky.

"Christie's a veteran coach with a wealth of WNBA experience," said Chatman who was aided by Sides during the Sky's run to an Eastern Conference championship and trip to the WNBA Finals in 2014. "Her ability to effectively communicate, and develop players with enthusiasm, is simply unmatched. Having previously worked together in college, abroad and in the WNBA, I am confident she will positively impact our team and organization."

Sides was an assistant coach at Northwestern during the 2016-17 season, and named in May 2017 as associate head coach. She resigned prior to the 2017-18 season to begin her new post with the Fever. Prior to her stint with the Wildcats, she spent six seasons as assistant coach at Chatman's side with the Sky.

From 2009-13, Sides served as an assistant for Spartak Moscow Region in Russia, where she helped Chatman lead Spartak to consecutive FIBA EuroLeague Championships in 2009 and 2010, and five Final Eight finishes overall. Sides also served as Chatman's assistant with the Slovakian Women's National Team for two years in the same period, helping the program to an eighth-place finish at the European Championships in 2009.

When Chatman accepted the Sky's position as head coach and GM prior to the 2011 season, the duo maintained their Russia-to-Chicago schedule for three years as they began building the Sky into a conference contender.

From 2004-07, Sides was an assistant on the LSU staff with Chatman as head coach. She helped guide the Lady Tigers to three Final Fours and two Southeastern Conference regular season titles in three seasons with the team.

Prior to LSU, Sides spent the 2003-04 season at Louisiana Tech as an assistant coach. Sides began her coaching career as the head JV coach and assistant varsity coach at Ruston (La.) High School. While at Ruston, Sides helped guide the Lady Bearcats to consecutive state playoff appearances.

As a player, Sides played her first two college seasons at Ole Miss for Hall of Fame coach Van Chancellor and helped the Rebels to a 34-22 overall record. She transferred to Louisiana Tech where she finished her playing career for fellow Hall of Fame coach Leon Barmore. Sides helped the Lady Techsters to a 61-6 record in two seasons, including a trip to the 1999 Final Four. She still holds the career record at Tech for 3-point field goal percentage (.448).

Born Jan. 17, 1977, Sides is a native of Baton Rouge where she led Central Private High School to a state championship as a senior and earned the Louisiana Gatorade Player of the Year award and all-state honors. She ended her high school playing career ranked No. 1 in school history with 3,375 points.

A former college player who played five seasons professionally in Germany, Jessie Miller begins her second year as assistant coach with the Indiana Fever.

It is Miller's first WNBA coaching position, after serving ten seasons in an operations and video capacity with the Chicago Sky.

Pokey Chatman brought Miller from her staff in Chicago where she spent the previous two years as the club's video coordinator and aided in player development.

Miller managed opponent scouting operations and video coaching with the Sky, participating in daily practices at home, and on the road.

Miller coached with DJK Brose Bamberg in Bamberg, Germany the past two seasons, following five years playing with the team.

A captain and four-year starter at Illinois-Chicago, Miller helped the Flames to the WNIT before playing overseas with DJK Brose Bamberg, from 2010-15.

"I'm excited about adding Jessie to our coaching staff," said Chatman who spent the past six seasons leading the Sky. "Having watched her grow over the past six years, I am confident she will impact our opponent scouting/preparation, player development, and in-game strategy. She understands the league and will be key as we continue to build on the success of our franchise."

A native of Burnsville, Minn., Miller received a B.S. in kinesiology from UIC in 2010. She has continued post-graduate coursework in Bamberg.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT COACH

@Bevilaqua41

After six record-setting seasons as an Indiana Fever point guard and recent coverage of the club as a local TV analyst, Tully Bevilaqua begins her second season as player development coach for the Fever.

A native of Merredin, Australia, and recently named to the Western Australia Hall of Champions, Bevilaqua earned a silver medal in the 2008 Olympics with the Australian National Team, and a gold medal at the 2006 World Championships. She completed 14 WNBA seasons between Cleveland (1998), Portland (2000-02), Seattle (2003-04), Indiana (2005-10) and San Antonio (2011-12). She also won a pair of WNBL championships in Australia as part of a 20-year pro career that began in 1991 with the Perth Breakers in her home country.

After winning the 2004 WNBA title as a reserve guard with Seattle, Bevilaqua signed a free agent deal with Indiana and made an instant impact. Spurred by an engaging personality and Australian accent, she became a fan favorite at Bankers Life Fieldhouse and, since her first season with the Fever, Indiana has never failed to reach the playoffs.

Named as a member of the Fever's All-Decade Team in 2009, Bevilaqua joined Tamika Catchings to spark a resurgence reflected by Indiana's current WNBA-record 12 straight postseason appearances, three trips to the WNBA Finals and a 2012 championship. Bevilaqua was the club's starting point guard for six straight years, leading Indiana to its first Finals appearance in 2009 and aiding in the development of future star Briann January who has been the Fever's point guard ever since.

The 2007 recipient of the WNBA's Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award, Bevilaqua was a six-time member of the WNBA All-Defense Team – all with Indiana and all beside Catchings. Her 573 steals still rank 10th among WNBA career leaders. Her 356 steals with the Fever are second in club history. She started an Indiana-record 116 consecutive games spanning the 2006-08 seasons, and started 188 of 197 Fever games overall, the fourth-highest figure in franchise history. Elsewhere in the Indiana record book, she ranks fourth in 3-point field goals and fourth in assists.

"Signing Tully back in 2005 was a turning point in our franchise," said Krauskopf, "so I am thrilled to have her back on the floor as a player development coach as we start a new era of Fever basketball. She brings tremendous knowledge, experience and work ethic. I am proud to add a former player to our staff who has been such an integral part of our success."

Since her retirement as a player, Bevilaqua has maintained residence in Indianapolis and become certified as a personal trainer. She is co-owner of Gym41, a local gym she established in 2011 that specializes in boot camp training, small group training, cardio boxing and yoga classes. She has spent the past two years as a volunteer assistant coach with the Zionsville High School girls basketball team, helping the Eagles to back-to-back sectional championships.

Bevilaqua and wife Lindsay have two children: Parker (7) and Mackenzie (5).

The owner of 96 career double-doubles, Tamika Catchings scored in 455 out of 457 games played. She scored in every game for 7+ seasons before going scoreless for the first time in 2009. During that stretch, she went more than a full season, 37 games, with 10 or more points in every game.

The 2016 Fever were known for uncanny scoring balance. Through the first 16 years of Indiana Fever basketball, the club produced six double-figure scorers in the same game just four times - once in 2000, 2007, 2011 and 2012.

Then, in 2016, the Fever produced consecutive games (May 18 & May 20) with SEVEN different players scoring 10+ points in the same game. Two months later on July 10, Indiana was one point shy of producing a third game with seven double-digit scorers.

Former USA National Team teammates Tamika Catchings and Natalie Williams were double-double threats almost every game. Three times during their tenure together from 2003 to 2005, the duo posted double-doubles in the same game. They helped Indiana reach the WNBA Playoffs in 2005.

Tamika Catchings (2002) was the WNBA Rookie of the Year while leading Indiana in points, rebounds, assists, steals and blocks.

Coretta Brown (2003) and Tan White (2005) scored the most points in a game by a Fever rookie not named Tamika Catchings. While Catchings owns the top four rookie marks, Brown and White each netted 26 points in road games during their rookie seasons.

Natasha Howard (2014) produced the Fever's first double-double rookie debut since 2002: 16 points, 10 boards and a club-record six blocks.

Tiffany Mitchell (2016) set rookie free throw records and was the second-leading rookie scorer in franchise history.

Tamika Whitmore's 41 points for Indiana in a 98-83 playoff loss at Detroit, 8/19/06, was a WNBA Playoff record until 2010. Whitmore made 15-of-22 shots and added 10 rebounds in what was one of the greatest playoff performances in league history. Pacing the Fever while Tamika Catchings was lost for the second half due to a concussion, Whitmore scored 25 points in the second half, including 15 in the third quarter.

Shavonte Zellous' 30 points in Game 3 of the 2012 WNBA Finals matched the third-highest scoring output in Indiana playoff history. Zellous hit 10-of-17 shots in the game while staking the Fever to a stunning 37-point third-quarter advantage (70-33), which is the largest lead in Finals history. Zellous shot 18-of-18 from the FT line during the series and closed the 2012 campaign with 19 straight free throws made.

Erlana Larkins established a new Fever record with 109 rebounds during the 2012 playoffs. She matched a league standard with nine offensive rebounds and grabbed 20 boards overall in Game 3 of the East Semis to match Tamika Catchings' mark which is second in league playoffs history. She twice registered 15 rebounds in the Finals, which fell one shy of the single-game mark in a championship series.

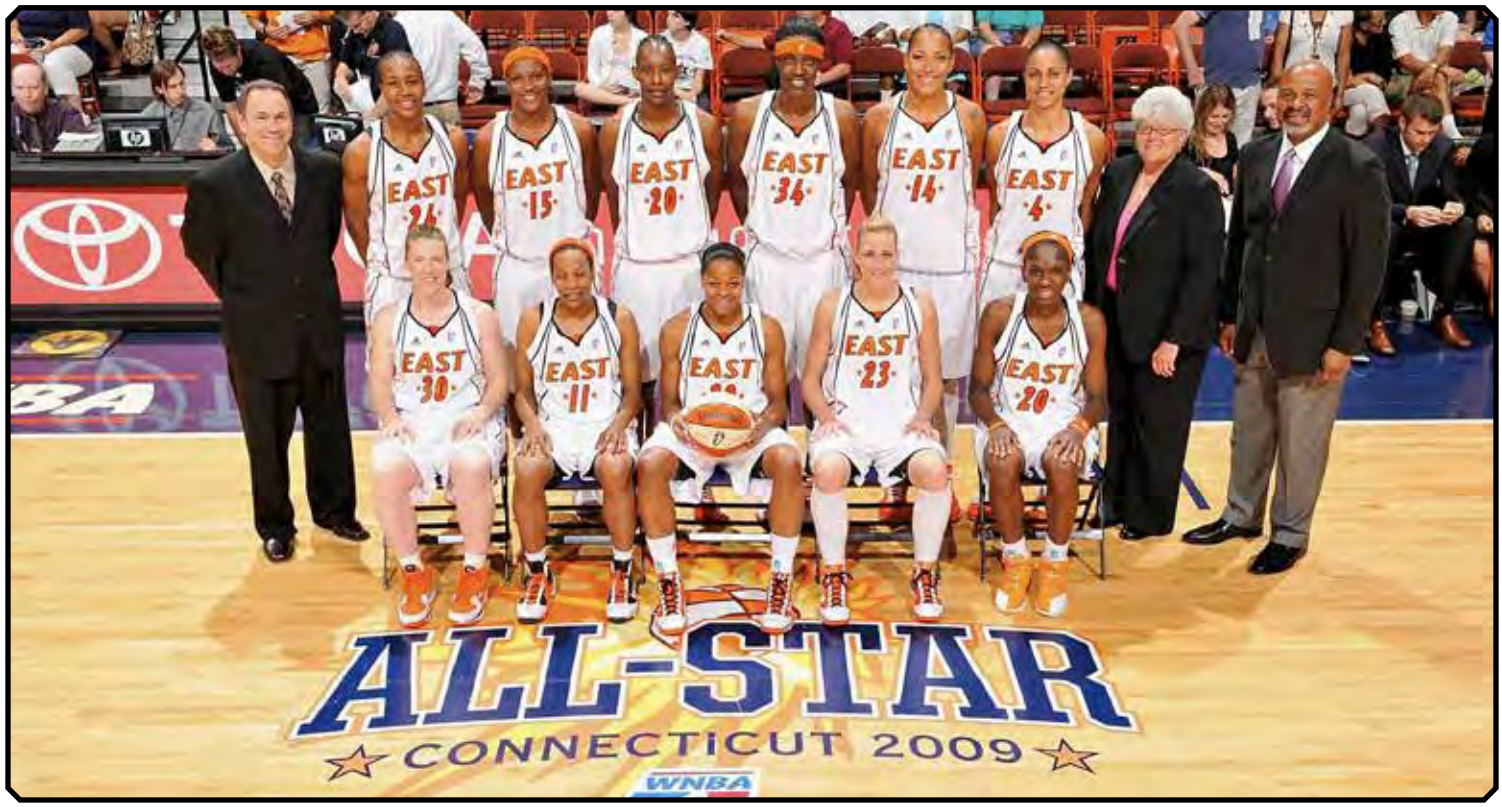
• No All-Star Games were conducted in 2004, 2008, 2012 or 2016, due to tightened schedules to accommodate the Olympics.
• The 2010 All-Star showcase was billed as "Stars at the Sun," in a USA vs. WNBA format designed to serve as a training competition for USA Basketball, prior to the 2010 World Championships. Fan balloting determined guaranteed participants in the game. Tamika Catchings represented USA Basketball. Katie Douglas played for the WNBA.
• In 2016, Tiffany Mitchell represented future USA National Team hopefuls as part of a USA Basketball Select Team that trained alongside the USA National Team prior to the 2016 Olympics, and participated in a USA Basketball Showcase presented by Verizon at the University of Southern California's Galen Center (July 25, 2016).
• in 2004. Natalie Williams represented the WNBA as part of a WNBA Select Team vs. Team USA exhibition at Radio City Music Hall in New York (Aug. 5, 2004). Tamika Catchings played for Team USA as part of training prior to the 2004 Olympics.

HONOR ROLL



In 2009, Fever coach Lin Dunn became the first Indiana coach named to lead the Eastern Conference All-Star Team. She was joined at the All-Star Game, played at Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn., by assistant coaches Gary Kloppenburg (left) and Jim Lewis (right) and trainer Craig Stull (not pictured). Representing the Fever on the team were All-Star starters Tamika Catchings (24) and Katie Douglas (23). Both Fever starters were selected by fan balloting. Catchings was the league's top overall vote-getter.

• The winners from the semifinals will meet in a best-of-five game finals series with the top seed hosting games 1, 2 and 5; and the lower seed hosting games 3 and 4.

Tiebreaker Procedure

a. Two-Way Tie Between Teams. In order to break a tie, the following criteria will be utilized in the order set forth:

(1) Better record in head-to-head games.
(2) Better winning percentage against all teams with .500 or better record at the end of the season.
(3) Better point differential in games - net result of total points scored less total points allowed, head-to-head.
(4) Better point differential - net result of total points scored less total points allowed, against all opponents.
(5) Coin toss.
